

Early Check-In Rider Attendance Volunteer – All Start Lines

Rider Check-In Times: Sunday: Rhode Island 6am-7:20am, Westport 7:30am-8:50am, Rochester 10:30am-11:50am

Overview: Each year, over 150 people take advantage of Early Check-In on the Friday and Saturday before the Ride to save time on event day by turning in their donations and collecting their bibs, event wristbands, and jerseys in advance. All Early Check-In Riders must give their name to the Early Check-In Attendance volunteer before they can ride.

Role: You will be given a clipboard and list of riders who have checked in early and a sign next to you that says “Checked in Early? Attendance here.” Please look for cyclists arriving who already have a bib to minimize their waiting in line. Sometimes cyclists do not come up to the check-in area, so be sure to circulate through the parking lots to look for Early Check-In folks. Whether stationed at the Check-In Tables, or roaming the crowd, look for any rider arriving who already has a bib, and ask them for their name. Locate the name on your attendance sheet, check the bib number, and if they match, mark the rider as “attended”. Then:

- Make sure their bibs are pinned on both front and back
- Make sure they are wearing their event wristband: this lists the phone number to call if they break down, and allows them to access all food and drink along the course including lunch and dinner. Give them a replacement wristband if they forgot it. (Available at Check-In)
- Direct the rider to Bag Check (if needed) or Food Table, Restrooms, or Start Line
  - If they have additional donations to turn in, direct them to the Fundraising Table
- Let them know the mandatory Safety Briefing will take place 10 minutes before the start (7:20am for 100-mile, 8:50am for 75-mile, and 11:50am for 35-mile)
- Thank them and wish them a great ride.
- See Event FAQs for more details on the event

When done with attendance sheet, make sure all of your notes are clear, and turn in your Sheet to your Check-in Captain.
