INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Directors
Chicagoland Habitat for Humanity
Chicago, Illinois

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Chicagoland Habitat for Humanity, which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2017, and the related statements of activities, cash flows, and functional expenses for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Chicagoland Habitat for Humanity as of June 30, 2017, and the changes in their net assets and their cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Chicagoland Habitat for Humanity Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Organization and Purpose

Chicagoland Habitat for Humanity (Habitat) works in collaboration with eight Chicago area Habitat for Humanity affiliates located in six Illinois counties. Habitat's primary goal is to distribute funds and increase public awareness with a goal to increase the program capacity of those eight-independent affiliate Habitat for Humanity organizations that build, sell and repair homes for low income families. Habitat established its current operations including a full-time CEO and other staff beginning in 2013, although it was formally incorporated in 1998 as a volunteer effort.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting – The financial statements of Habitat have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements have been prepared to focus on Habitat as a whole. Net assets and revenue, expenses, and gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor imposed restrictions. Accordingly, net assets and changes therein are classified as follows:

Permanently Restricted Net Assets – Net assets subject to donor imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by Habitat. Habitat has no permanently restricted nets assets at June 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets – Net assets subject to donor imposed stipulations that may be met by the actions of Habitat or by the passage of time.

Unrestricted Net Assets – Net assets not subject to donor imposed stipulations.

Revenues are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets, unless use of the related assets is limited by donor imposed restrictions. Expenses are reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Gains and losses on investments and other assets or liabilities are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets, unless their use is restricted by explicit donor stipulation or by law.

Expiration of temporary restrictions on net assets (i.e., the donor imposed stipulated purpose has been fulfilled or the stipulated time period has elapsed) are reported as reclassifications between the applicable classes of net assets.

Contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenues in the period received. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until they become unconditional, that is, when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Contributions of assets other than cash are recorded at their estimated fair value.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Temporarily Restricted Net Assets – Habitat has adopted the following accounting policy with respect to temporarily restricted net assets:

Contributions with Restrictions Met in the Same Year – Contributions received with donor imposed restrictions that are fulfilled in the same time period in which the contribution is received are reported as unrestricted support.

Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, and operations, and the related disclosures at the date of the financial statements and during the reporting period. Significant estimates of these financial statements include the balance of contributions receivable being fully collectible, the determination of the estimated useful life of Habitat's intangible assets and equipment, and the allocation of staff time in the statement of functional expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Receivables – Contributions receivable are stated at their present value reduced by an allowance for doubtful accounts. Management's periodic evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance is based on Habitat's past experience, known and inherent risks of the applicable receivables, adverse situations that may affect the donors' ability to pay, and current economic conditions. For both the years ended June 30, 2017 and 2016, no allowance was established against specific receivables.

Intangible Assets – Intangible assets are valued at cost. Significant costs incurred for the development of intangible assets are capitalized at cost, while ongoing expenditures to maintain the assets are expensed as incurred. Donated intangible assets are valued at estimated fair value at the date of donation. Amortization is provided on the straight-line method over the estimated useful life of the assets, currently three years.

Equipment – Equipment, valued at cost, is comprised of computer equipment with a cost of $2,658 and accumulated depreciation of $148 at June 30, 2017. This computer equipment is depreciated over its estimated useful life, currently three years. Depreciation expense for the year ended June 30, 2017, amounted to $148.

Donated Materials and Equipment – Materials and equipment received as donations are recorded as in-kind revenue and expense, or capitalized if capital in nature, at fair value at the date of receipt.

Income Taxes – Habitat is incorporated as a not-for-profit entity, as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is exempt from taxes, except to the extent of any unrelated business income. There was no unrelated business income for the years ended June 30, 2017 and 2016. Accordingly, no provision for income tax is included in the financial statements.

Habitat's tax returns for the years ended June 30, 2016, 2015, and 2014 are open for purposes of Internal Revenue Service or Illinois Department of Revenue examinations.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Expense Recognition and Allocation – The cost of providing Habitat’s programs and other activities is summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities and statement of functional expenses. Expenses that can be identified with a specific program or support service are charged directly to that program or support service. Costs common to multiple functions have been allocated among the various functions benefited.

Management and general expenses include those costs that are not directly identifiable with any specific program, but which provide for the overall support and direction of the organization.

Fund-raising costs are expensed as incurred, even though they may result in contributions received in future years. Additionally, advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Concentration of Risk – As of June 30, 2017, one promise to give accounted for 83.92% of contributions receivable. For the year ended June 30, 2016, the balance of contributions receivable consisted of amounts pledged from two donors. Any negative change in the economy could have an impact on future contributions and fund-raising efforts.

Subsequent Events – Subsequent events have been evaluated through December 11, 2017, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

3. Cash – Habitat’s cash is comprised of deposits in one financial institution and a money market account with an investment brokerage, and may from time to time exceed available insurance coverage limits.
