RALPH WALDO EMERSON

Dear Friends,

In January, I will retire from service as President and CEO of Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health. While I will remain involved with Devereux, in ways both formal and informal, for many years to come, this annual report serves as my final year-in-review accounting to you, our most loyal advocates and supporters.

My service to this remarkable organization has been the calling of a lifetime and a privilege for which I will always be grateful. Like everyone who has been deeply moved by Devereux's mission, I will always be a dedicated supporter. I have had the pleasure of working with the finest professionals in our field throughout my tenure. I hope I've offered some meaningful opportunities for learning and development – as I've certainly learned more from the staff, individuals and families of Devereux than from any other source in my professional career. I could never have anticipated how much this organization would change my understanding of the world, and the importance of serving a mission so much greater than oneself – but I will always be grateful for those lessons.

Retirement, especially from an organization so important as Devereux, is a very bittersweet experience. I'm excited to spend more time with my wife, Barb, and our children and grandchildren, and I expect to engage in a few new professional advisory and consulting roles in the coming years, but I will miss our work together, here at Devereux. The transition is made easier knowing I leave things in the hands of the most outstanding leadership team working in behavioral healthcare, and I'm delighted by our Board's selection of my successor, our current Senior Vice President and Chief Operating Officer Carl E. Clark II. Devereux is a remarkable organization with wonderfully talented people and an unparalleled history of success built on strengths. This organization is poised to cement its reputation as the finest nonprofit behavioral healthcare provider in our nation, and I am confident we have the right leadership team in place to make that happen.

The people Devereux supports have unique and important gifts, which may not always be as readily apparent as their challenges. Our amazing staff, through their dedication to those we serve, possess the keys to help our individuals unlock their fullest human potential every day. The decision to join Devereux 23 years ago was an easy one because of the enthusiasm and passion of the Devereux staff and senior leadership team – and their captivating sense of purpose. I will miss the daily camaraderie – the give and take of ideas so important, they have the potential to change lives. Every single day at Devereux our staff are working to create imaginative solutions to the most extraordinarily complex challenges – and while they do it with grace and humility, they aren't afraid to think big and act boldly. I am humbled to have been among their number.

I am also deeply thankful to our Board of Trustees, which has provided unflinching support and expertise to Devereux, and to me, these many years. The names and faces on the board have changed through time but, true to Devereux's legacy of sustained excellence, their commitment and expertise has always remained of the highest order. I extend my sincere gratitude to our trustees, and also to our advisory board members and Devereux families – current and past – who provide unwavering support and counsel to this organization. You have my deepest appreciation for the work you do and the sacrifices you make.

As I look back over my time with Devereux, I am proud that we never took our eyes off our fundamental goal of providing the highest quality care in our field. This aim has been central to Devereux for 105 years – and counting. Our new strategic plan, "A Bridge to the Future," reaffirms our commitment to "The Devereux Family Standard" – the lens through which we carefully review every program to ensure it is of the quality of our finest program. Our Family Standard drives an effort that considers everything we do through a family member's perspective. This point of focus will continue to strengthen our commitment to a culture that considers and connects families, agencies and collaborators for the best possible care and outcomes.

I also extend my deepest thanks to our donors and other partners. Your incredible empathy, dedication and generosity have often illuminated, and always enabled, the way forward. You have contributed mightily to make Devereux's staff, programs and services what they are today. Devereux as we know it would not exist without you and I hope you feel the gratitude and respect of every one of us.

On a personal note, I will never be able to adequately thank my wife, Barb, and our entire family, for wholeheartedly embracing Devereux and not just understanding, but actively supporting, the commitment one makes when taking on leadership of something so important. They have joined me every step of the way on this wonderful journey. I am fortunate to have played a role in this organization I love so dearly; it is a job I have dedicated my mind and heart to every day. None of it would have been possible if not for the support of Barb and our family, and their genuine love of those we serve. They have been just as much a part of Devereux as I have been.

For more than a century, Devereux has delivered on its promise of quality and compassionate care. For the part you have allowed me to play in that legacy, I thank you. Looking ahead, it is clear to me that we have a duty – all of us who love Devereux and those we serve – to give everything we can to advance this organization and to ensure its voice of thoughtful reason paired with extraordinary vision benefits not only the families we serve directly, but the entire field.

Throughout my years at Devereux, it has been my nature to advise staff – both in times of crisis and great success – "that things are almost never as bad or as good as they seem in the moment." And yet, in this moment, I believe it is fair to say that Devereux is exactly as good as we know it to be – better, in fact. There is simply no end to the good this organization can do in our world. For the opportunity you have given me to help steward such promise, I thank you.

Yours truly,

Robert Q. Kreider

A LETTER
FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

SAMUEL G.
COPPERSMITH, ESQ.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

Dear Friends,

This 2017 annual report for Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health closes one of the most noteworthy chapters in the history of our remarkable organization. Following nearly two decades of service, including 13 as president and CEO, our trusted friend and counselor, Bob Kreider, will retire. Bob has had an extraordinary run at Devereux, and on a single page I can't list all the good he has done, and how grateful we are for his service.

This year also marks my last as Devereux's Board Chair. While I will remain deeply engaged with Devereux, both nationally and in Arizona, I will hand the gavel, with gratitude and relief, to our incoming Board Chair, Chris Butler, in November 2017.

With both Bob and me stepping down, Devereux will continue unlocking human potential for even more children, adolescents, adults and whole families living with the effects of emotional, behavioral and cognitive differences with new leadership. We are excited to announce that Carl E. Clark II, currently senior vice president and chief operating officer, will become our new president and CEO on Jan. 2, 2018. I am confident that with Carl's leadership, and his more than three decades of experience in our field, he will take Devereux to new heights.

To be the finest organization serving individuals in need, Devereux must be in a constant state of evolution, always pushing boundaries and demanding new levels of excellence.

This incomparable Devereux vitality and sense of purpose inspires me, my fellow trustees and every Devereux employee to do more, and to be more, for this organization each year. Our traditions of renewal – as our founder would say, “Always being en route,” toward greater things – continue.

Our new strategic plan, “A Bridge to the Future,” charts a path toward a larger organization, serving more people with even more outstanding programs and services. We are fully committed to building Devereux's brand, not simply toward increased marketing and fundraising success, but much more importantly, toward strengthening our voice in advocacy, research and best practice conversations, nationally and internationally, so we help drive the state of the industry and, critically, work toward ending the stigma faced by individuals with special needs. People at Devereux are always focused on how we can be the finest organization in our field, and a key part of our industry leadership is improving not just our organization, but the world around us.

I am extremely grateful and honored to have worked alongside my friends and fellow trustees during my term as Board Chair. The collective leadership, acumen and camaraderie of this group has taught me a great deal, and our work together has been both interesting and rewarding. Our board members' generosity and commitment enables Devereux to be the best at caring for those we serve, which include some of our nation's most vulnerable individuals. Every trustee shares that vision, but I especially want to acknowledge several no longer with us: Dick Raskin, Tom Hays, Bud Taylor and Peter Haje. They were all smart and successful in business, but also thoughtful and engaged trustees, and each of them tried to teach me a lesson I am still learning, that it's not enough to lead with your head; you also have to follow with your heart.

To our Devereux staff, families, supporters and partners, I continue to appreciate your wonderful work, commitment and involvement. I have long appreciated that Devereux's fundamental approach to care focuses on an open-hearted acceptance of differences; that we engage through an individual's strengths, rather than a preoccupation with differences or deficits. These values power Devereux's Philosophy of Care, part of the very fabric of this organization, which is transformed from words to action by the commitment of our employees and friends. I am confident Devereux's unparalleled team of experts, aided by our wonderful trustees and recently completed strategic plan, will guide our organization toward a remarkable future.

After all, it is about people – and Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health has some of the finest anywhere.

With my gratitude,

Sam

ABOUT DEVEREUX ADVANCED BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health is one of the nation's largest nonprofit organizations providing services, insight and leadership in the evolving field of behavioral healthcare.

Founded in 1912 by special education pioneer Helena T. Devereux, Devereux operates a comprehensive national network of clinical, therapeutic, educational, and employment programs and services that positively impact the lives of tens of thousands of children, adults and their families every year.

Focused on clinical advances emerging from a new understanding of the brain, its unique approach combines evidence-based interventions with compassionate family engagement. With more than 7,000 employees working in programs across the nation, it is a recognized partner for families, schools and communities, serving many of our country's most vulnerable populations in the areas of autism, intellectual and developmental disabilities, specialty mental health needs, and child welfare concerns.

Programs and services are offered in community and school-based settings, as well as residential and acute-care settings. Services may also include: Assessments; Interventions and Support; Transition and Independent Life Services; Family and Professional Training; Clinical and Educational Research and Innovation; and Advocacy and Public Education.

For more than a century, Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health has been guided by a simple and enduring mission: To change lives by unlocking and nurturing human potential for people living with emotional, behavioral or cognitive differences.

Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health, headquartered in Villanova, Pennsylvania, provides comprehensive services across 13 states.

The Devereux aim ... to perpetually pioneer in developing improved insights and solutions.

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP – HELENA T. DEVEREUX TO ROBERT Q. KREIDER, AND BEYOND ...

More than a century ago, in 1912, Helena T. Devereux showed remarkable strength and leadership when she left a prominent teaching position in the Philadelphia School system to create the groundbreaking organization that came to bear her name.

At the turn of the 20th century, America was a vastly different country. In 1912, Fenway Park in Boston saw its first baseball game; America read about the tragic sinking of the Titanic; and New Mexico and Arizona were added as the 47th and 48th states, respectively. Women wouldn't win the right to vote until eight years later, in 1920.

These were daunting times for a woman – who had a mere $93 in savings – to create and open a special education school, particularly one that flew in the face of conventional wisdom. Helena Devereux's determination and vision changed the course of what was then an insular and provincial industry focused wholly on psychiatric and intellectual deficits.

A Leader in the Industry

Fast forward to 2017, and Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health offers one of the largest, most diverse national networks of behavioral healthcare services in the country. While much has changed since 1912, the remarkable legacy of special education pioneer Helena Devereux remains a hallmark of this organization.

As a leader in the industry, Devereux understands its duty to continually incorporate new innovations to advance our services, our field and the lives of those we serve. In the guiding words of Helena Devereux, "Devereux must remain always en route."

A Distinguished Career

Devereux's last fiscal year – summarized in the pages of this annual report – marks an especially noteworthy time, as it reflects on the final year of Robert Q. Kreider's tenure as Devereux's president and chief executive officer (CEO). Kreider will retire in January 2018 after 23 years of executive leadership at Devereux – 13 as president and CEO.

Kreider joined Devereux in 1994 as chief financial officer and senior vice president. Kreider immersed himself in Devereux's culture and mission, and got to work. His first critical task: restructure and strengthen the organization's financial underpinnings and, ultimately, its business model. This challenging endeavor was met with great success and paved the way for a strong and durable organization.

In 1996, these efforts were recognized by the National Association of Corporate Treasurers and Treasury and Risk Management magazine, which awarded Kreider and Devereux the prestigious Alexander Hamilton Award for Excellence in Corporate Finance.

In 2001, Kreider was named executive vice president and chief operating officer. This position provided him with greater opportunity to understand the complex and comprehensive scope of Devereux's programs and services.

Since the organization's beginnings 105 years ago, there have been just six individuals at the helm. In 2004, Kreider was added to that remarkable lineage when he was selected to serve as Devereux's sixth president and CEO.

TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADERSHIP – HELENA T. DEVEREUX TO ROBERT Q. KREIDER, AND BEYOND ...

Devereux
ADVANCED BEHAVIORAL HEALTH | UNLOCKING
HUMAN POTENTIAL™

DEVEREUX ADVANCED BEHAVIORAL
HEALTH CHANGES LIVES – BY UNLOCKING
AND NURTURING HUMAN POTENTIAL
FOR PEOPLE LIVING WITH EMOTIONAL, BEHAVIORAL OR COGNITIVE DIFFERENCES.

Thoughtful, Planned Growth

During Kreider's tenure, Devereux experienced a significant growth in size, as well as an advancement of quality treatment, staff expertise, outcomes success, and the expansion of specialty programs that serve emerging needs and expanding populations. This increased external focus – and the resulting progress across numerous indicators of success – was thoughtfully and carefully planned by Kreider, along with Devereux's leadership team and board of directors.

Kreider has been responsible for a number of significant accomplishments across the organization.

Just a few include:

- Calling for growth in program excellence and diversity through renowned specialty services
- Overseeing an organizational re-branding initiative that strengthened and better defined our brand and competitive position, while illuminating Devereux as a national leader of advanced behavioral healthcare services
- Securing Devereux's financial future through one of the worst economic recessions of the last half-century
- Creating and implementing Devereux's Philosophy of Care, which formalized what it meant to provide compassionate, evidence-based care at our centers and in the community
- Demonstrating an enduring commitment to staff and performance excellence by revamping the organization's strategic planning process, and investing in improved systems, education and research. As Kreider is fond of saying: "things are almost never as bad or as good as they seem in the moment." Success is found through continued learning and good planning.

Strengthening Our Organization

Adding to his remarkable list of accomplishments, several initiatives led by Kreider have been central to Devereux's progress and success.

He embraced the principle that Devereux's staff and knowledge systems are precious resources and, therein, the difference between good results and consistently great results. Kreider also recognized that Devereux – an organization founded by a pioneering woman – would benefit by making a concerted drive for a larger percentage of women in executive and leadership positions. These efforts resulted in a more than 50 percent gain in the number of talented women in key executive posts across the organization.

In addition, Devereux's development of Signature Programs – in the areas of autism, commercially sexually-exploited children and cutting-edge services for LGBTQ adolescents – broadened the organization's reach and answered the call for these rapidly emerging areas of need.

These, and many other victories, are attributable to Kreider's leadership, along with the innovative thinking of a senior management team who share his passion for excellence.

A Bridge to A Bright Future ...

Devereux's innovation and advancements in the areas of brain science and clinical treatment have served the organization well, and positions the team for the opportunities and challenges that lie ahead. This forward focus is fundamental to exceptional leadership – and extraordinary leaders.

As Devereux looks to the future, the organization has set a thoughtful and comprehensive strategic plan in motion that reflects the wisdom and insights of its leaders, families, agencies, staff and supporters.

Excellence, and the power to innovate, require a solid organizational foundation. For more than two decades, President and CEO Robert Kreider has been a brilliant and towering force, not only behind Devereux Advanced Behavioral Health's significant and industry-leading accomplishments, but also in building an incredibly strong foundation that will continue to shine as a beacon of hope for the children, adolescents and adults who need our help.

IN MEMORY OF

IN MEMORIAM – PETER R. HAJE, ESQ.

The Devereux Family lost one of our most trusted counselors, and beloved friends, with the passing of Trustee Peter Haje in Manhattan, on July 2, 2017. Peter is survived by his wife, Helen Heineman Haje, and their children, Michael, Katherine and Lily. Peter was a graduate of Cornell University and Harvard Law School and served as a First Lieutenant in the United States Army.

A partner for over 20 years at the international law firm of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison, he left the firm to become Executive Vice President and General Counsel of Time Warner Inc. Later in his career, he worked as an independent legal and business advisor to numerous Fortune 100 Companies, and from 2006 until 2016, served as a director of Time Warner Cable.

Peter was one of the most generous, wise and witty souls to have graced Devereux's Board. Our organization is a finer one, for Peter's thoughtful leadership and extraordinary philanthropy. For each of us, we have in our memories of Peter, the epitome of style, kindness and strategy. No one could communicate more by saying less than Peter. He was a man for the ages. We are honored to have been part of his story.

DEVEREUX LEADERSHIP THROUGH THE YEARS

FOR OVER 100 YEARS

In 1957, after 45 years of running all facets of a flourishing Devereux, founder Helena T. Devereux turned over operational control to Edward L. French, Ph.D. Soon thereafter, in 1960, French was appointed president. Over the six decades since Edward French's tenure began, there have only been five Devereux presidents. In 2018, following Robert Q. Kreider's retirement, Carl E. Clark II, Devereux's senior vice president and chief operating officer, will become Devereux's seventh president in that august lineage of presidents and chief executive officers.

Devereux remains steadfast to its founding philosophy and mission, and is dedicated to providing the highest levels of service. That there have been just a few who have achieved the title of president and CEO, over a considerable length of time, speaks volumes about the strength and stability of the organization.
